

Cyngor Tref Llanwrtyd Town Council
Councillor Nigel Price

I was born, bred and live in Llanwrtyd, and although my work takes me away from the town during the day, I take an active interest in town life outside working hours.

I served the town as a Retained Fire-fighter for nearly thirty three years, the last ten as Officer in Charge, and retired in 2010.

I am currently Chairman of the Festival Committee which organises various activities throughout the year to support other local organisations, including the Xmas lighting in the town.

I do have previous experience in serving as a Town Councillor when elected in 1978, and as I now work for Powys County Council, this gives me an insight into how local government works.

October 2012